Lansdowne School Funding for 2014 - We have received our funding allocation for next year using the new funding model known as the Resource Allocation Model (RAM). I still need time to investigate and fully understand our position. I am including a link that will provide further information for you to read.

As for our local situation I will be presenting some budgeting drafts to the next P&C meeting and will include updates through the newsletter.

Sorry folks.....

This hot, dry weather means we once again have uninvited guests in our children's hair.

The dreaded head louse is on the rampage.

We have sent "nit notes" home to a couple of our classes and this is to remind families to check regularly.

P&C NEWS

Student Banking Update:

Following is a link to a great resource for parents who would like to make their children more financially aware.

The Commonwealth Bank looks after all our Student Banking operations and have sent this for our family information:
